Dealing with Incursion, Protest and Activism Training

Training Objectives:

The training aims to develop and upskill current staff, whether frontline or other, to be able to effectively, safely and lawfully deal with incursion, activist and protest situations.

Outline of Training:

The CPD-accredited DWIPA Training is an instructor-led programme meticulously crafted to navigate the complexities of managing protests and activism. This training is designed to be adaptable and meet the unique needs of your business.

Key components include:

Our training is designed to empower participants with the skills needed to navigate challenging scenarios appropriately, lawfully and safely. We offer either online or workshop training, which are both instructor-led. The courses are tailored to client requirement and can be either half day (online training) or full day sessions. Online training encourages participation and discussion while the workshop training incorporates interactive scenario sessions to embed learning.

All participants receive an aide-mémoire and certificate of learning.

Course Design and Service Delivery

The course is flexible and can be tailored based on your specific needs and preferences. The foundational element of each course is the legal framework, serving as the cornerstone for both half-day and full-day sessions. The half-day course offers a comprehensive overview, while the full-day course delves deeper, showcasing practical implementation methods.

The training course combines theoretical presentations, in-depth explanations, and interactive class discussions to ensure optimal knowledge transfer.

Designed with adaptability in mind, the course can be seamlessly rolled across your entire organisation. Where legal nuances vary by country, we make the necessary adjustments while upholding consistent foundational principles.

Trainer Biography

Kenny MacLeod BSc MSyl, is a retired Police Superintendent with 30 years' Service. He is a former Bronze and Silver Public Order Commander who has accumulated significant operational experience in the Police; especially in relation to public protest, balancing the rights of individual protest with the right of other individuals to go about their lawful activity. He is also a former Security Coordinator (SECCO) and has planned and successfully delivered VIP and Royal visits.

More recently, Kenny has undertaken an advisory and liaison role with Industry and has been integral in the development and delivery of the DWIPA course for the past 6 years.

Programme Management and Review

Ray Fellows will oversee the programme management of the agreed services. Ray holds a Master of Science Degree in relation to Security Management, is a Chartered Security Professional and a Fellow of the Security Institute.

We will deliver the training in accordance with the agreed training objectives. There will be an end of training evaluation providing course feedback.

RMR has pioneered and continues to maintain the Security Institute's Protest and Activism Special Interest Group, bringing together professionals across the industry and enabling sharing of up-to-date knowledge regarding the law and the ever evolving sphere of protest and activism.
